THE PROBLEM

Every year about 275,000 students must choose a path within weeks, mostly on hearsay.

281,810
sat the A/L in 2025

176,527
qualified for university

42,937
state university places

Three in four qualified students will not get a state place. Every other path runs on its own rules and calendar: private degrees, gazetted job exams, vocational courses, study abroad and more. One badly ordered list or missed date can cost a year.

EVIDENCE

Six people, one pattern: nobody knew where to look.

What we heard	People	In their words
Found other paths only by luck	4 of 6	“Basically it’s luck.” (E5)
Couldn’t follow the handbook	3 of 6	“No one can really read the campus book.” (E2)
No single source to rely on	3 of 6	“I didn’t have a proper way to find out…” (E3)
One gap changed their path	2 of 6	“I missed one course… life altering situation.” (E4)
Wanted to know what a degree teaches	2 of 6	“If you could show the curriculum…” (E6)

WHAT E5 ASKED FOR

“Show all the options he can take after the Z-score is released, and the steps.”

WHAT E6 WARNED

“First check that the seniors and admins are legit.” So ZedPath verifies every senior before they can post.

Interviews E1–E6, 23–29 Sep 2026, all recorded · quotes translated from Sinhala where needed

WHY THIS NEEDS AI

AI reads what students can’t, and shows its source.

Ask ZedPath

- Searches official pages in Sinhala, Tamil or English
- Answers through a gateway with model fallback
- Drops any claim without a citation

Gazette reading

- Reads every weekly Gazette
- Pulls out the exam, eligibility and closing date
- Two checks must agree before an alert

Rule extraction

- Turns handbook entry clauses into rules
- Two methods and two models must agree
- Each rule tied to its page and tested

How we keep it honest

Sourced: every fact keeps its page

Grounded: no citation, no claim

Tested: hand-checked cases before every release

Group messages are also screened automatically before they reach other students

COMPETITION

Other tools compare cut-offs; none checks grades, order or deadlines.
